Foreword

I consider it a privilege and honour to write some words in this foreword of the Compendium of Senior Periodontists of India. Most of these Senior Periodontists are the recipient of the Bombay University's Post graduate degrees in Periodontia.

In the pre independence days one was compelled to go abroad for postgraduation in dental specialities. However, in the 1959, Bombay university took landmark decision to commence postgraduation studies in various branches of Dentistry. Thus, was laid the foundation of M.D.S. studies

These Senior Periodontists were the ones who took the decision to be the postgraduate degree holders of the Bombay university. They came from all regions of India. This fulfilled the reason, purpose, motive of the Bombay university's goal of spreading higher education in Dentistry.

These Senior Periodontists after postgraduation returned to their Alma Mater's to create centers of excellence in Periodontia. Thus, over time a strong body of Periodontists took place - ISP

This Compendium of Senior Periodontists, hopefully, will fulfill the purpose of spreading the awareness regarding the birth and progression of Periodontics in our Country. The present and future generations of Periodontists will have this as a recorded history -

Prof. DR. GURURAJ RAO and his team has worked relentlessly to bring out this informative Compendium. I must say he has done an excellent work to compile this Compendium. Kudos to him. My best wishes and gratitude.

DR. V. K. GORE

EX-DIRECTOR, College of Dental Surgery, Manipal.
EX-PRINCIPAL, K.L.E. Society's Institute of Dental Sciences, Bangalore.

WHO'S WHO IN PERIODONTOLOGY

Today India has crossed 130 crores .According to our estimations, daily change rates of India population in 2020, 77,575 live births average per day (3,232.28 in an hour) 28,164 deaths average per day (1,173.50 in an hour) -1,558 emigrants average per day (-64.93 in an hour)

Population ages 65 and above (% of total population) in India was reported at 6.3779 % in 2019, according to the World Bank collection of development indicators, compiled from officially recognized sources.

Dentistry started in India with the inception of R Ahmed Dental College and Hospital Calcutta in 1948 by the then health minister of India Dr R Ahmed Kidwai, who himself was a dentist.

Since then, Sir CEM Dental college and Nair Hospital Dental college started at Mumbai. CEM Dental college was renamed as Government Dental college.

However, the post graduate courses in India were a nightmare then. It was Government of India who wanted to establish new government dental colleges at Ahmedabad, Bangalore, Trivandrum Hyderabad in 1959. The new colleges started with a great paucity of teachers with post graduate qualifications.

This was the genesis of post graduate courses and some nodal institutions were center of post graduate courses. Government Dental College and hospital at Bombay, Nair Hospital Dental College Mumbai, Dental wing of King George Medical College at Lucknow were made to start post graduate courses in Periodontia father of periodontology in India was Late Prof G.B.Shankhwalkar, Prof {Mrs.} Tehmi Ginwalla from Mumbai and, Late Prof T.N. Chawla from Lucknow were the trinity of periodontology who gave several eminent teachers of high repute to the country. In 1967 few more government dental colleges started at Amritsar in 1953 Indore 1967 and in 1968 government dental college was started at Nagpur.

1959 started with MDS Courses in Periodontia. Prof C.P. Boghani, Prof V.K. Gore, Prof S.S. Rao were deputed to do MDS at Government Dental college, Bombay under Dr G.B. Shankhwalkar

Similarly, Prof R.P. Nayak and Prof B.R.R. Varma were admitted at Nair Hospital Dental College Mumbai under Prof Tehmi Ginwalla. The first batch of MDS came out in 1961.

Our Periodontology subject prior to 1968 was a part of Oral medicine and Radiology in Final BDS. Thus, for a long time it was clubbed with oral medicine and Radiology.

Only in 1968 that Periodontia as it was called then and got an independent subject status.

Thus, the periodontology was a subject which bloomed in post 1961 era and we had a large number of eminent teachers who became elite scholars and were the beacon of the present-day periodontology.

To commemorate the sixty years of Post graduate Periodontology in India, this is the tribute to all the senior veteran periodontologists who started their journey a compendium is being brought out In this compendium a brief information has been given about the teachers who have passed between 1961 to 1991. Keeping in mind several teachers who have departed for heavenly abode, we have made sincere attempt to collect photographs and details about the colleges and university teaching.

It is our respects to all these teachers who have passed their post-graduation between 1961 and 1991 and were contributing to the upliftment of the science of periodontology.

It is my humble thanks to Dr Anant Raghav Sharma who took enormous efforts to reach different persons at different post graduate centers in India, collected the necessary information. We would request you all to bear with us if there are any errors in our presentation. I also thank Mr Rohit Bhati of Bharat Copiers Udaipur Rajasthan our Printers Mr Vinay Hegde of M/S Suvidha Graphics, Bangalore for their printing. Our sincere thanks to Dr V. K. Gore former Professor and Head Dept of Periodontology, Director College of Dental Surgery Manipal and my colleague for giving his foreword for being the first batch from Govt Dental College and Hospital Mumbai

I was really blessed to be with Prof Gore for nearly ten years at Manipal and my mentor.

At this occasion I shall fail in my duty if I do not thank several persons who really helped me to make this compendium of Senior Periodontists of India.

DOYENS OF PERIODONTOLOGY OF INDIA

S.N. Bhaskar

Surindar "Sindi" Bhaskar, DDS, who served as a major general in the United States Army Dental Corps before retiring, died on August 4, 2016 at the age of 93 in his home in Monterey, Calif. He was an oral pathologist, an educator, a periodontist, an author, and the first Asian-born general in the United States military.

Bhaskar was born in the state of Punjab in Northern India in 1923. He completed dental school at the University of Punjab by the age of 19 years and then practiced general dentistry in Bombay. At the age of 21, he came to the United States to attend the Northwestern University School of Dentistry, where he received his DDS in 1946.

Next, Bhaskar completed his master of science and doctor of philosophy degrees as well as specialty training in oral pathology and oral medicine at the University of Illinois and the University of Chicago. He entered the U.S. Army Dental Corps in 1955, serving in numerous positions and rising to the rank of major general before being promoted to chief of the corps and assistant surgeon general for dental services.

Additionally, Bhaskar was a professor at Georgetown University School of Medicine and Dentistry and wrote more than 200 scientific papers and 4 textbooks. After retiring from the military, he entered a residency to obtain a certificate in periodontics at the UCLA School of Dentistry, VAMC Wadsworth, which he completed in 1980.

Later, he practiced periodontics with the Monterey Peninsula Dental Group. An internationally renowned lecturer on oral pathology and periodontics, he delivered more than 10,000 hours of education before retiring in 2005. He was awarded the Legion of Merit and the Meritorious Service Medal for his work as well.

Bhaskar is survived by his wife, Norma; his sons, William, Philip, and Thomas; his brothers, Kedar, Som, and Prem; and his grandchildren, Elizabeth, Brian, and Emma. He was laid to rest at Arlington National Cemetery with full military honors.

Prof Tehmi. M.S. Ginwalla

Prof Tehmi. M.S. Ginwalla is an eminent personality in the field of periodontology. She did her DDS from Toronto, Canada in 1942 and her LDSRCDS (England). She was the first Professor and Head Department of Periodontology and also the first lady to become the Dean Hair Hospital Dental College, Bombay. She started the department in 1947 and took over as the Dean in 1973-74. She had been a teacher with significant contributions in periodontology in India. She had published and post graduate students. presented several papers and has mentored innumerable post graduate students.

She was the first dental scientist to be ever invited to present an original contribution to the fifth International Conference on Oral Biology, held in Zurich in September 1971. In addition to this, she has many publications in national and international journals.

Prof G.B. Shankwalkar

Periodontology in India has come during the last fifty years on account of a few geniuses who have dedicated to the field of Periodontology. It is apt to remember Prof G. B. Shankwalkar BDS, LDSCPS, and MS (USA). He did his BDS from the University of Bombay in 1954 and got his Licentiate in Dental Surgery from the College of Physicians and Surgeons, Bombay and eventually went on to do his MS at the University of Indiana in 1958. He was a teacher par excellence and served for twenty five years; over fifteen years at the Government Dental College and Hospital Bombay; and as a Dean for another six years. He has produced 36 post graduate students from Bombay University. He had authored 39 scientific papers at national and international level. He is aptly called the Father of Periodontology in India. A President of Dental Council of India. Dean Faculty of Dentistry of Bombay University, he was a member of the IDA; a founder member of the Indian Society of Periodontology, and several other institutions

Prof. T. N. Chawla

Prof. T. N. Chawla, BDS, LDS, RDS, MS, FACD is the third among the trinity of Periodontology in India. He was a man who was an oral surgeon, oral pathologist and a Periodontologist, all rolled in one.

A man with diverse vision, Prof. Chawla, while doing his BDS, went on to do his MS under the stewardship of none other than Prof. Irving Glickman at Tufts University Boston. He returned to India to establish a full-fledged, Dental Department at King George Medical College Lucknow, as early as in 1952. He was the man who showed changes taking place due to malnutrition and protein deficiency. He was a genius who also participated with Jens Pindborg to study sub mucous fibrosis. He also contributed to the eruption pattern of teeth in Indian children along with Prof Nanda. He succeeded the Dental Department from Dr. Sampath to launch an illustrious career from 1952 to 1980, during which time in 1965 he got the P L 480 grant which enabled him to establish the Department of Periodontology. He focused his research on Fluorides and also studied the impact of oral Prophylaxis on periodontal tissues.

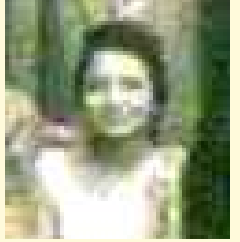

He was destined to become the first principal of the prestigious Dental College with a separate dental faculty. Today, the Dental College at KGMC has been recognized as a separate university - the first of its kind in India. He had been a post graduate teacher and groomed several learned academicians in periodontology.
